CAMERON

It is not the purpose of this sketch to give more than a very brief outline of some of the historical events in the history of Cameron and Shoal township.

The first settler in Shoal township was Isaac D. Baldwin who came from Tennessee, in 1830, and established a home six miles south of Cameron. Here also was the first mill; a small horse power affair was operated near there. The second post office was located about two and one-half miles south of Cameron in 1850 and J. P. McCartney was postmaster until the completing of the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad in 1856, when it was moved to Cameron.

The first attempt to start a town in Shoal township was one and one-half miles east of Cameron, on the old Mormon trail and was called Sommerville. There was a store and two other houses which were later moved to Cameron.

Cameron was laid out in 1859 by Edward M. Samuel, Samuel McCorkle and Michael Tiernan and was named for Colonel Cameron of Clay County, the father of Mrs. McCorkle. The first building in the town was a frame house at the corner of Walnut and Third streets, placed there by A. T. Babie, who also opened the first store and was the first Postmaster.

At the beginning of the Civil war, Cameron did not have to exceed one hundred inhabitants and it was not until 1867 that it was incorporated as a village.

In 1871 the first school house was built by private subscription and stood at the corner of Pine and Third streets, near where the Presbyterian church now stands. This building now faces Main street just south of the Plain Price Mercantile Company's store, and is used for a warehouse. In 1871 about half the town was destroyed by fire including nearly all the business district which then was located along Wabut street. After the fire the business section was rebuilt along Third street which has since been the principal business street of the town. Soon after this G. W. Sloan began business in Cameron and has continued in business on the same lot since 1872, and his monument establishment now operated by himself and sons, is the outgrowth of nearly fifty years of business in the same location.

Introduction

For several years there has been a growing demand for a city directory for Cameron and we are pleased to present the Witt Directory, the first one issued since the Yetter directory of 1910. It has been compiled at considerable expense and labor; outside of the printing, special canvassers have covered every foot of ground in the city limits, to secure names and correct addresses of residents of Cameron. The steady increase in population enjoyed by Cameron since the issuance of the former directory, the constant change of residents through various causes, calls for a ready reference to accommodate this demand commercially and socially. It is our purpose, whenever there is a demand, to issue a revised edition, and make the Witt Directory a valuable book to our business men and citizens at all times. Except changes in addresses made since the printing of the book started, we have endeavored to get the book as accurate as possible.

The advertisers herein have made the publication of this book possible, and are the men who support every enterprise that goes to make a greater Cameron. They are deserving of the patronage of the people of this section.

Respectfully,

THE PUBLISHERS.

WITT'S DIRECTORY OF CAMERON, MO.

The first newspaper was the Chronotype, established in 1867 by Jas. A. Corothers and afterward in 1868 was changed to the Observer which until two years ago was published regularly by C. N. Burnham, and was then consolidated with the Daily News.

Cameron has had a steady growth and now has a population of approximately 4,000 according to the last census. It has a municipal light plant and water works system giving excellent service, several of the principal streets are paved, and hundreds of modern homes and well kept lawns and gardens speak of the prosperity and progressiveness of the little city. It has a glove factory, an overall and shirt factory, an ice plant, a wholesale grocery house, a dairy company not only handling a large quantity of milk, but manufacturing ice cream, with a capacity of more than 1,000 gallons per day, a butter factory, bottling works, cement block plant, wholesale produce house and creamery, broom factory, steam laundry, monument works, two elevators, three feed and coal houses and dozens of well stocked general stores, shoe stores, groceries, hardware, drug stores, markets and other places of business.

It has a tornado insurance company with over $67,000,000 insurance in force, a daily newspaper, a weekly newspaper, a Chamber of Commerce which has been of great service, the Good Fellows, who look after those in need, the M. W. C. Guild, an organization of ladies of all denominations for the support of the college, lodges in flourishing condition, city and college Y. M. C. A., Churches of several denominations the most active and largest in point of membership being the Methodist Episcopal, Christian, Presbyterian, Baptist, Catholic, and Latter Day Saints.

Cameron has four banks as follows: Cameron Trust Co.; Farmers Bank; First National; Citizens State.

Cameron is situated on both the Burlington and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and has the best train service of any place of the size in this part of the state.

The Missouri Wesleyan College is the pride of Cameron and has done more than anything else to enhance the value of real estate, tone up the moral, religious and educational life of Cameron and make it an ideal place to dwell. Missouri Wesleyan Institute was founded in 1883 and became Missouri Wesleyan College in 1897.

Cameron Public Schools are also a source of pride and among the best to be found in North Missouri. The High School building is large and well equipped and yet is crowded to capacity, while the grades building on the south side is too small for the present enrollment and it is only a question of a short time when more room will be absolutely necessary for the advancement of the schools.

SOME SUGGESTIONS THAT IMPROVE TELEPHONE SERVICE

Don't jiggle the receiver hook.

Keep the kinks out of the telephone cord.

When your telephone don't work right, call the Chief Operator immediately. Repairs are made on your telephone without charge and the trouble might just as well be cleared right away as later.

Speak distinctly and right into the transmitter do not mumble your words.

Be careful of your telephone. Do not use it roughly it is as delicate as your watch.

When you are tired and crabby—when things go wrong, kick the waste basket, not the telephone.

Smile when you talk. The voice with a smile wins, and we want you to win over the Telephone.
